

A memorial from the mayor and city council of the city of Baltimore, stating, that the said city has been afflicted by a malignant disease, and praying the aid of the legislature, was preferred, read, and referred to Mr. Smith, of Baltimore, Mr. Chapman, Mr. McCulloch, Mr. Wilson and Mr. Harwood, to consider and report thereon.

Mr. C. Frazier, from the committee, delivers to the speaker the following report :

THE committee to whom was referred the report of the visitors and directors of Frederick academy beg leave to report, that it appears to your committee, that the said visitors and directors have fully complied with the provisions of the act, entitled, An act for the promotion of literature within this state, and that they have drawn from the treasury the sum of eight hundred dollars, which sum is in full of the appropriation to said academy for the year eighteen hundred; that they have expended the said sum, except a balance of one hundred and sixty-five dollars now in hand, in the payment of the salaries in part to the different tutors, and making some further accommodations for the students; and that by said return it appears there are fifty-four students in the classical department, twenty-three in the more advanced English school, and thirty-four in the introductory English school, amounting in the whole to the number of one hundred and eleven in said academy. Your committee would here remark, that the representation given by the visitors and directors of the said seminary, which they believe to be correct, shews its rapid progress to the attainment of the objects of its institution, and that a continuance of the legislative aid, hitherto afforded, of which it bears honourable testimonials, will ensure all the advantages that could have been contemplated in its origin.

By order,

J. S. BETTON, clk.
